

The Musicians - Related Events

Contributed by Deborah Turnbull
Tuesday, 12 June 2007
Last Updated Wednesday, 20 June 2007

Drawing from the work of David Rokeby, The Musicians is an early prototype, interactive artwork that utilizes cinematography and sound to engage audiences via invisible touch pads. Users are encouraged to play notes or compose music by directing the two professional musicians as they jam filmically, the audience members directly impacting the artwork via their movements.

Saturday 7 July, 2007 &ndash; Demonstration, Artist's Talk, and Live Performance - 11:30am-1:30pm

Julia Burns will speak on the process of creating interactive art as a practising artist in Sydney with specific reference to The Musicians.

Location:

11:30am-12pm - Demonstration in Beta_space, Ground Floor, Cyberworlds Gallery

12-1pm - Artist's Talk Level 3, PHM Education Rooms

1-1:30pm - Drinks and nibbles accompanied by a Live Performance by The Musicians

RSVP to Deborah Turnbull: deborah@it.uts.edu.au or 02 9514 2384

Download invitation here: The Musicians

Thursday 31 May, 2007 &ndash; Creativity and Cognition Studios (1pm-2pm)

Julia Burns will demonstrate work developed by Ardrian Hardjono, with the assistance of Robin Chow, to the research group at CSS. After a brief presentation, the group will partake in an initial test &ldquo;play&rdquo; of the system, with the opportunity to offer feedback.

Location: CCS Studios - UTS Broadway Campus - CB10.4.250